Grant;

Aircraft Model: S-92A
Dt: August 16, 2016 1:59 AM
ATA: 20
Case Number: 0035252
Title: General alternate packing PN

Problem Description:

Is it possible to get one letter from Sikorsky about the M83248 packings that they can be used to replace the AS3209 series packings until our stocks are depleted. This will stop the request for each individual part number as they come up.

We are working to get the AS3209 in stock but as you know there are many different dash numbers and until we come across them we cannot order each one.

This way I can educate the inspectors is ok to use this older part number until we have sufficient stocks of the AS3209 series for the S92 aircraft.

Problem Resolution:

Materials, propulsion and flight controls engineering has no objection to the use of M83248 packings in place of AS3209 series packings until stock is depleted. The IHS standard lists AS3209 as the replacement O-rings for the cancelled M83248 series.
